

I have been watching television for many years. With the coming of age of the cable networks I have encountered the problem of not being able to get home in time to watch the shows that I like.

That is not because I work late, but rather because programming is scheduled based on East Coast time. That means that Shows that are broadcast at 7pm EST are being shown on the West Coast at 4pm PST.

In order to resolve this problem it has been NECESSARY for me to record these programs for my family to view when we get home from work.

If you prevent my accomplishing this you are restricting my ability to view these programs. The other alternative would be to REQUIRE that these broadcasters re-broadcast these programs at the proper time for West Coast viewers.

It is just easy to let us record these programs for viewing at a later time. If you wish to put something in the recording device that prohibits it being copied again, that's great.

Just let us copy it for our own in house use.

Sincerely

Edward F. Romain
